
● From neutrons to native: Characterization across Pharma

The pharmaceutical industry faces a wide range of analytical problems that are typically addressed with classical MassSpec techniques. scimaX[®] moves the field beyond the molecular level to provide unambiguous identification through isotopic fine structure. No other single instrument is capable of providing results from the isotopic to the macroscopic level. scimaX[®] MRMS offers a solution to any group in pharma.