Innovation with Integrity

The new Bruker BioSpin online platform Connexus®, available in Europe*, enables clients in need of advanced NMR analytical techniques to connect with labs that have available capacity on high-tech scientific NMR instruments.

Benefits

For Clients:

- Gain access to advanced analytical NMR techniques, higher magnetic fields, and different probes to advance your research.
- Increase your throughput by flexibly outsourcing certain samples when your instruments are not available, or you need external capacity for your workload.
- Expand your network with opportunities for new collaborations and additional expertise.
- Rely on a trusted platform for secure transactions.

For Service Providers:

- Reduce your total cost of ownership by maximizing your instrument capacity utilization and efficiency.
- Earn additional income which can be used for improvements in your lab or upgrades to your instruments.
- Gain exposure to other interesting/innovative research fields.
- Become part of an exciting service ecosystem and contribute to the advancement of science.

How Connexus works

For Clients:

Choose the service provider best suited to your desired analytical NMR techniques based on price, distance or rating by other users.

1. Register your company or institution on Connexus free of charge. A customer service representative will then send you the credentials needed to log-in.
2. Search and choose from service providers covering your needs, based on technical requirements, price, distance or rating.
3. Place your order with the desired laboratory and, if accepted, receive their confirmation and any special instructions.
4. Complete your transaction by submitting your payment securely in the platform.
5. Book with full data security in compliance with all privacy standards. We keep your data safe and follow global security standards to process your payments.
6. Pack and send your sample(s) to the laboratory.
7. Track the status of the analysis process in the platform.
8. Share your experience within the community and rate your laboratory.

For Service Providers:

Maximize lab capacity utilization. Register your NMR instrument(s), create your services and wait for the orders.

1. Register your company or institution on Connexus free of charge. A customer service representative will then send you the credentials needed to log-in.
2. Set up your Stripe account and add your instrument(s) details and services you offer on the platform.

3. Once you receive an order request you can review the information and confirm or decline the request.
4. Perform the sample measurement or analysis requested by the client on the selected instrument.
5. Upload the client's analysis results to the platform.

INTEGRATION

Connexus gives clients access to a qualified network of labs and takes care of COMMUNICATION, LOGISTICS AND PAYMENTS for seamless transactions.

RELIABILITY

All analyses are conducted by the service providers on HIGH QUALITY NMR INSTRUMENTS - all data is handled with the HIGHEST CONFIDENTIALITY.
